The Elephant Queen
Directed by Mark Deeble and Victoria Stone, United Kingdom, 2018, 96 min

When a long drought disrupts the fragile ecosystem of Kenya’s Tsavo Region, a herd of African elephants are forced to make a perilous migration seeking a sustainable water source. Their stirring adventure begins as the herd’s powerful leader, a 50-year old matriarch named Athena, takes dramatic action to ensure the future of her cohort. Living and filming in Kenya for over four years, directors Stone and Deeble achieve a level of breathtaking intimacy with their subjects, placing the audience directly into the heart of the family of gentle giants, the largest standing animal on earth.

The Biggest Little Farm
Schools at the Festival Exclusive
Directed by John Chester, USA, 2018, 91 min

A testament to the immense complexity of nature, The Biggest Little Farm follows two dreamers and a dog on an odyssey to bring harmony to both their lives and the land. When the barking of their beloved dog Todd leads to an eviction notice from their tiny LA apartment, John and Molly Chester make a choice that takes them out of the city and onto 200 acres in the foothills of Ventura County, naively endeavoring to build one of the most diverse farms of its kind in complete coexistence with nature. The land they’ve chosen, however, is utterly depleted of nutrients and suffering from a brutal drought. The film chronicles eight years of daunting work and outsize idealism as they attempt to create the utopia they seek, planting 10,000 orchard trees and over 200 different crops, and bringing in animals of every kind – including an unforgettable pig named Emma and her best friend, Greasy the rooster. When the farm’s ecosystem finally begins to reawaken, so does the Chesters’ hope – but as their plan to create perfect harmony takes a series of wild turns, they realize that to survive they will have to reach a far greater understanding of the intricacies and wisdom of nature, and of life itself.

From Fact to Fiction
Schools at the Festival Exclusive
70 minutes

Collected from around the world, this compilation of short films explores a variety of storytelling techniques, from documentaries exploring the water crisis in South Africa to animated films using traditional hand-drawn and stop-motion techniques to bring their characters to life. This collection gives students the perfect smorgasbord of all the SFFILM Festival has to offer.

Scenes from a Dry City
A visually stunning documentary illustrating how the water crisis in Cape Town mirrors the lasting racial and class division between white and Black South Africans. (Simon Wood, François Verster, USA/South Africa 2018, 13 min)

Lost World
As millions of tons of sand from Cambodia are being cultivated and shipped to build new land mass in Singapore, livelihoods and natural surroundings are being slowly impacted in devastating ways. (Kalyannee Mam, USA/Cambodia 2018, 16 min)

Enforcement Hours
A San Francisco rapid response hotline tries to help anyone involved in an ICE raid, as calls range from worried individuals who are unsure if they are a target to xenophobic messages that are trying to hold up the process, in the newest film from Paloma Martinez (Crisanto Street, Festival 2018). (Paloma Martinez, USA 2018, 12 min)

Rooftop Kiters
Children living in the tough favelas of Brazil find moments of joy and respite in flying beautiful kites from their rooftops. (Daniel Ribeiro de Castro Paiva, Brazil 2018, 5 min)
In Portuguese with English subtitles

Poem About All Different Things
Written by a four-year old poet, this hand-crafted animation opens a portal into the real world of the limitless imagination of kids. (Nancy Kangas and Josh Kun, USA 2018, 2 min)

Knock Down the House
Directed by Rachel Lears, USA, 2019, 86 min

We met a machine with a movement,” says Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez (D-NY 14th District), and thank goodness director Rachel Lears was there to capture it. Profiling four women (including AOC) of disparate backgrounds running grassroots political campaigns against established male incumbents, Lears depicts a fundamental moment when these (and other) remarkable women reminded the country that people really do have the power. Unforgettably depicting the candidates’ unflagging energy and commitment, Knock Down the House is an important and ebullient documentary about reclaiming democracy one seat at a time.

Monday • April 15 • 12:00pm • SFMOMA

Missing Link
Schoo ls at the Festival Exclusive
Directed by Chris Butler, USA, 2019, 95 min

Tired of living a solitary life in the Pacific Northwest, Mr. Link (voiced by Zach Galifinakis) – 8 feet tall and covered in fur – recruits fearless explorer Sir Lionel Frost (voiced by Hugh Jackman) to guide him on a journey to find his long-lost relatives in the fabled valley of Shangri-La. Along with adventurer Adelina Fortnight (voiced by Zoe Saldana), the trio encounters their fair share of peril as they travel to the far reaches of the world. Through it all, they learn that sometimes one can find a family in the places one least expects. Bursting with humor, heart, and a profound message of acceptance and finding one’s place, Missing Link is written and directed by Oscar® nominee Chris Butler (ParaNorman). Thursday • April 11 • 10:00am • SFMOMA

Suggested Subjects/Themes: Arts/Media, Elementary School, English, Peer/Youth Issues

Paper Flags
Directed by Nathan Ambrosioni, France, 2018, 102 min
In French with English subtitles.

Displaying a mature style and sensibility despite his age, Paper Flags director Ambrosioni (at 18, one of cinema’s youngest directors of a full-length feature ever) offers a complex and compelling story of sibling tensions. Vincent (shape-shifting character actor Guillaume Gouix), recently released from prison, immediately heads to his sister Charlie’s (Noémie Merlant) modest home. The film carefully tracks Charlie’s sense of unease around her brother’s return – she pretends he’s just an acquaintance when she’s out with friends – until a visit from their father causes their simmering resentments to boil over.

Monday • April 22 • 10:00am • SFMOMA

Suggested Subjects/Themes: French, Peer/Youth Issues, Social Justice, World/Current Affairs

Recommended Grades: 9 – 12

Nothing Fancy: Diana Kennedy
Directed by Elizabeth Carroll, USA/Mexico, 2019, 85 min
In English and Spanish with English subtitles.

Reflecting on her life’s work as one of the globe’s authorities on Mexican cuisine, 95-year-old Diana Kennedy says, “Always get a recipe.” Whether hosting cooking classes in her Michoacan home (“If anyone says they don’t like cilantro, please don’t invite them”), driving back roads in her weathered Nissan, or providing a noteworthy example of sustainable living, Kennedy and her reminiscences and irascible persona show how passion and appetite made a career. Though the film remains focused indelibly on Kennedy, Bay Area food luminaries Alice Waters and Gabriela Cámara offer penetrating insights of their own.

Q Ball
Directed by Mike Tolajian, USA, 2019, 97 min

Across the Bay from the NBA champion Golden State Warriors is another Warriors team, one that plays only home games. Felony convictions derailed the lives of the San Quentin Prison squad, some of them promising players. The rocky road to rehabilitation is the point of the game in this eye-opening, inspirational documentary, executive produced by Kevin Durant, who calls his experience playing against San Quentin “unforgettable.” Q Ball’s focus is on determined men grappling indelibly with the gravity of their crimes and reaching for redemption, one three-pointer and defensive screen at a time.

Friday • April 12 • 10:00am • SFMOMA

Suggested Subjects/Themes: African American Studies, Health, Journalism, Social Studies, World/Current Affairs

Recommended Grades: 9-12

We Are The Radical Monarchs
Directed by Linda Knowlton, USA, 2019, 96 min
The Radical Monarchs are an Oakland-based leadership development troop, specifically for girls of color, that don’t earn badges for cookie sales but rather for social justice, activism, and “allyship.” Following the two moms, Anyavette and Marilyn, who founded the troop and the girls through a season of badges, growing pains, and reactions to the current political climate, We Are The Radical Monarchs shows that with groups like these, the future is indeed female and ready to take action.

Screening #1 • Thursday • April 11 • 12:30pm • SFMOMA
Screening #2 • Thursday • April 18 • 11:00am • Grand Lake

Suggested Subjects/Themes: African American Studies, Arts/Media, Journalism, Latin American Studies, Peer/Youth Issues, Political Science, Social Science, Social Studies, Student Activism, Women’s Studies

Supa Modo
Schoos at the Festival Exclusive
Directed by Likarion Wainaina, Kenya, 2018, 74 min
In Swahil, Kikuyu, and English with English subtitles
A moving first-time feature from filmmaker Likarion Wainaina and co-producer Tom Tykwer shares the inspiring and powerful story about the strength of a young girl’s imagination and the warmth of her community in making her dreams come true. Nine-year-old Jo loves Jackie Chan and action movies, and dreams of becoming a superhero herself, despite her terminal diagnosis. When her family decides to move her out of the hospital and back home in her final few months, Jo’s sister fights her mother’s better judgment to keep Jo inside and resting. Together with the entire village, Jo embraces her superpowers and turns her dreams into a reality. A moving and sweet drama about the power of community and imagination in an unusual means to say farewell to those we love.
